

Cascade Clamp

Cascade Clamps - Cascade Manufacturing Company was established in Portland, Oregon in the year 1943. They began as a small machine shop in the beginning employing four individuals. Product sales for their initial year of operation amounted to about $60,000. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless steel pipe fittings, valves and different parts. Within 5 years of operation, the company had stretched to forty workers and their annual sales volume had increased to 330 thousand dollars. These days, Cascade is amongst the leading international makers in the material handling trade.

Design and production of the company's first hydraulic cylinder allowed this young business to aggressively engage in new business possibilities. All through the final 60 years, the trade of material handling has developed into a really complex area with Cascade proudly playing a part in its improvement. Cascade at present continues to grow as the premier supplier of forklift attachments and different associated products. The business feels certain in their skill in order to continue to lead the way within the business by understanding customer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive in the world market.

In the 1950's, Cascade started designing, manufacturing and advertising hydraulic attachments. Manufacturing was finished in 1956 on a new office to be able to accommodate all of the office and plant operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's current center of operations. After 15 years of business, total employees reached one hundred eighty employees and sales had reached almost two million three hundred thousand dollars.

The next production plant was built in 1959 in Springfield, Santa Maria. The year 1960 marked Cascade's preliminary transfer into the international world of the material handling industry when the company established interest in the Netherlands, England, and Australia.

In 1964, the company altered its name to the Cascade Corporation. Then in the year 1965, the company went public with an initial offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. Since then the company has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the continental US to the areas Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already present plants in Springfield, Santa Maria and Portland, Oregon. Cascade merchandise are fabricated globally thanks to many subsidiary operations. In the year 1944, a brand new plant was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European command center. This plant is designed to be the essential customer support centre.

Continuing to develop, Cascade expanded their product offering further in 1996 and the year 1997 with the impressive acquisition of 5 firms, including the international best in blades, the Kenhar Corporation.
